Message for the book of Dr J N Pandey

Dr Jai Narayan Pandey, Head of the Department of Economics, Rajiv Gandhi Post graduate College, Ambikapur, District Sarguja in Chhattisgarh State is an earnest scholar of economics and social sciences and believes in eternal values of life that shape the human character and development of the society. His another book: Spiritual Socialism and World Government is ready for publication and we feel happy to congratulate him and convey our best wishes to him by way of a Foreword/Message to his book.

This book is duly arranged in the form of a valuable manuscript for publication which comprises of contents on economic development, bio-diversity, growth related problems, contemporary crisis, fresh prospects and opportunities. Surely, all these innovative themes are of great topical significance which converts the manuscript into a valuable document. He has successfully organized several Webinars in his above mentioned college and endeavored to prevail upon established authors and economists along with budding and enthusiast young faculty in economics and sister disciplines in university departments and colleges and stand-alone institutions to participate and contribute in his academic endeavor.

I had the pleasure to attend all the Webinars and I am a witness that so many scholars have ably contributed their well thought out articles, research notes, explanatory communication and resume of ongoing projects etc. through their presentations. He has continuously kept in touch with authors and saw to it that the final versions from the authors are received in time for the academic events that he arranged in his college. This is really commendable on his part as researchers and authors often take longer time and slip the deadlines of the event and go unrecorded.

I profusely congratulate Dr. Pandey for this great effort and successful intellectual pursuit. It is heartening to note that this manuscript Spiritual Socialism and World Government is to be published in a book form shortly. I also take this opportunity and feel privileged to extend my warmest greetings to all those who have helped shape this document so well. There would be no exaggeration in saying that the spiritually elevated personality of Dr. Pandey always helped him in roping in such a wonderful galaxy of scholars that he has been able to set an institution of his own as an NGO which is working for the uplift of downtrodden of the society.

Owing to his courteous influence, all the contributing participants have maintained their understanding of the overall theme of the online programs and participated very actively. In the postpandemic world, very few titles have been published on related theme and therefore this book of Dr. J N Pandey which connects Spiritual Socialism with democratic development assumes great importance and huge academic value. The concept of development in view of the prevailing covid-19 crisis has undergone a sea change over the last two years or so. The proposed book as a matter of fact seems to be analyzing several themes (which deserve a book in their own right) so succinctly that at every stage the spiritual dimension is brought out to be the undercurrent of all economic arguments.

The philosophy of development of Dr. J N Pandey and the theoretical underpinning of the book take us to the British classical economists, to whom economic development was limited by division of labour and extent of market. Globalization is the modern phrase for the system that was visualized by them based on free trade of that period in history. Any barrier limiting free trade limits the division of labour and the market. They stood for free trade system and free markets and now globalization has started asking for the same again. Excessive focus on development led to speedy exploitation of natural resources that put immense pressure on bio diversity and the resulting loss in flora and fauna.

Development came to be analyzed in terms of sustainable growth and welfare concerns for future as well. Apparently, human welfare is not maximized in monopolistic conditions but in free market situation. Gradually new technology gave altogether new dimension to the institution of market which connects the people, households, firms and the governments. Growth oriented economic systems led to jobless growth, rootless growth, ruthless growth, voiceless growth and even futureless growth. The concern of Dr. Pandey is to have a world government based on democratic principles of development.

The sudden outbreak of pandemic in 2020 affected the global economy very substantially and differently. The whole world came to a standstill. Economies crashed. GDP fell down and unemployment sharply deepened. The pandemic is global and countries tried their best to control it. However, some countries could not manage it well even with abundant resources like the USA while others could achieve exemplary success by emulative public commitment in controlling Covid-19 remarkably like New Zealand. In view of the human sufferings caused by displaced labour force and consequent economic distress, job creation afresh and reducing income inequalities will need to be given priority in development policies by national governments and also at the international level policy making.

On the other hand, in order to achieve a socialistic pattern of development with good governance we also need an approach of development which should promote production and trade not only in money terms but also on more ethical and sustainable basis to help improve living standards and overall human welfare. New ways will have to be found out through well thought out researches as how to ensure it. We know when markets fail markets cannot correct the failure. Government will have to intervene and provide packages of workable solutions. The proposed book seems to be an attempt in that direction.

The literacy dimension of the author of this book is noteworthy and his knowledge of different regional languages and cultures of the languages has certainly given the local feel in his global vision of development. The reason is that languages carry the culture of the local area and the ethos of development is hidden in the local expressions in vernacular- be it Awadhi, Bhojpuri or Chhattisgarhi language and related literature. Viewed thus, the knowledge of local languages of Dr. JN Pandey has given another noteworthy slant to his vision of development in which local concerns are wedded with global challenges of development with the underpinning of spiritual socialism. In this sense, this book is going to be a unique document in its own right. I offer my best wishes to the author of this book - Dr Jai Narain Pandey.

Foreword (First Edition)

SPIRITUAL SOCIALISM

Dr Jai Narain Pandey, Head of the Postgraduate Department of Economics, Rajiv Gandhi Government PG College, Ambikapur in Surguja District of Chhattisgarh State of India has prepared a very novel manuscript and it is about how economics can help the people in achieving well-being, good health, and happiness. He has recalled old knowledge with new economic thinking and the challenges of development in modern context. This is important in the sense that development should not be seen only in terms of the outcome of investment for personal gains but it should be viewed from the perspective of humanism, coexistence and general welfare of the people at the global level through better management of resources and the state itself through morally sound democratic means and ethically derived cooperative principles.

He has graded the human needs which have to be fulfilled in order of importance and intensity. In this context, we are reminded of W S Jevons as he classified goods on the basis of their nearness to consumption or we can distinguish between needs (of various orders) and desires of higher order! Dr. Pandey has underlined the sequential significance of what he says as Primary needs, Secondary needs, and Tertiary needs.

He has focused on the role of cooperation in achieving these requirements for living backed by human, moral and ethical values which provide the much needed underpinning to any campaign leave alone cooperation and cooperative efforts. It is more than one hundred years ago when first cooperative society's act was passed in India and the subsequent growth of its various dimensions and the observation of the all India Rural Credit Survey Committee Report (1951-53) that cooperation in India has failed but it must succeed.

The author has brought in focus that food clothing and shelter come in first preference as primary needs of the human individual in his strive for development and then is felt the needs of transport, education, medial, employment and social life (wedding etc.) which are classified as secondary needs; and finally communication, entertainment, tourism general knowledge and specific sciences are grouped in tertiary needs which are higher requirements for decent living.

The author has argued for achieving spiritual socialism there should be a provision of free education and employment on appropriate time along with free food and housing at the work place itself. He has also outlined a new pattern of election process and more power being given to Panchayat. He has also opined that there should be separate heads for management of forest resources, gram panchayat, the state itself and the country at large on the basis of provisions of holy scriptures that are based on time tested principles of plural society with strong underpinning of moral and ethical values. He has suggested that there is a need for having democracy in true sense of the word i.e. rule of the people and a world parliament for a democratic global government which should be a true representative of the people in order that spiritual socialism is established.

I congratulate and offer my best wishes to Dr Jai Narain Pandey, author of this manuscript.

From Writer's Desk (First Edition)

Lack of international institutions or hold of some influential nation on them, radical nationalism, militarism, colonialism, industrialization, nationalist role of newspapers & Television, terrorism, lack of diplomacy, economic recession has been the cause of diseases and crores of deaths and wars. In the world, the result of the diseases and economic troubles caused by colonialism, the formation of the 'League of Nations' after the first world war and the result of the economic recession & the second world war 'United Nation Organization' and all the trouble prevailing in the world today are 'Spiritual Socialism' in the same.

Democracy, it should not be run on the basis of privatization and dictatorship, but on the basis of suggestion of Gram Panchayat. In democracy, monopolistic forces should also not be allowed to flourish. In the present situation the need is to adopt the coordinated Spiritual Socialist democratic Governance system of parliament of Karma & Dharma, for the welfare of the world in coordination with spirituality and society.

Keeping the above facts in mind, I have written a book called "Spiritual Socialism". The present book Spiritual Socialism is present in summary form. The detailed book will be published by 2022.

I am especially grateful to Dr. Mohd. Muzammil (Professor of Economics & Ex Vice Chancellor), who has justified the book's justification by writing the Preface. With all I am also grateful to Dr.

S.K. Tripathi, Principal/Additional Director, Higher Education Surguja Division, whose support has always been available to us.

I am especially grateful to the Honorable Mr. Chandra Bhushan Ji Sharma (farmer Chairman, Chhattisgarh Education Commission), who guided me from three decades. The blessings of my gurudev Dr. Ram Vilas Vedanti (Shri Ayodhya Dham), my venerable father Shri Vasu Dev Pandey and the Mother Late Smt. Vidyavati Pandey in the form of subtle self- power have always with me.

In the entirety of the book presented, sacrifice of my Ardhangini honorable Smt. Neelam Pandey, my son Dr. Captain Grish Pandey & my daughter Dr. Pooja Pandey are my inspiration. This book is respectfull dedicated to the supreme father, the supreme sole of the Universe. Also, "for the welfare of the world dedicated to the people of world." Thank to all

अंतर्राष्ट्रीय संस्था का अभाव या उन पर कुछ प्रभावशाली राष्ट्रों की पकड़, उग्र राष्ट्रवाद, सैन्यवाद, उपनिवेशवाद, औद्योगिकरण, समाचार पत्रों/दूरदर्शन की राष्ट्रवादी भूमिका, आतंकवाद, कूटनीति का अभाव, आर्थिक मंदी ही तीन शताब्दियों से विमारियों व युद्ध का कारण रही है। विश्व में, उपनिवेशवाद के कारण उत्पन्न विमारियों व आर्थिक परेशानियों का परिणाम प्रथम विश्व युद्ध के बाद 'लीग ऑफ नेशन्स' का गठन तथा आर्थिक मंदी व द्वितीय विश्व युद्ध का परिणाम संयुक्त राष्ट्र संघ' एवं वर्तमान में व्याप्त तमाम परेशानियों का परिणाम आध्यात्मिक समाजवाद ही है।

प्रजातंत्र, निजीकरण व तानाशाही के आधार पर नहीं चलना चाहिए बल्कि ग्राम पंचायतों के सुझाव के आधार पर चलना चाहिए। प्रजातंत्र में एकाधिकारी ताकतों को भी पनपने नहीं देना चाहिए। वर्तमान परिस्थिति में, आवश्यकता है कि आध्यात्म व समाज के समन्वय से विश्व कल्याण के लिये कर्म व धर्म संसद के समन्वित आध्यात्मिक समाजवादी, जनतांत्रिक समाजवादी शासन पद्धति को अपनाया जाए।

उपरोक्त तथ्यों को ध्यान में रखते हुए, मैंने आध्यात्मिक समाजवाद नामक पुस्तक लिखा है। वर्तमान पुस्तक में आध्यात्मिक समाजवाद सारांश रूप में प्रस्तुत है, विस्तृत पुस्तक 2022 तक प्रकाशित की जायगी।
